

St Gummarus Tower

The Pepper pot

St Gummarus Tower, known as the "Peperbus? (Pepper pot) to the people of Lier, is 83m high.

Due to a number of catastrophes it took almost four centuries to build. We can see this from the various architectural styles: Gothic at the bottom, the octagon resting on this is late Gothic, the top octagon is late baroque and the tower roof is rococo.

At the top of the tower is a unique 18th St Gummarus carillon ^[1]. On the occasion of its 300th anniversary in 2003-2004 extensive renovation of the bells, drum and clock was carried out.

After climbing 296 steps you have a breathtaking view over Lier and surrounding area from the top.

Scan the code and take a look inside the St Gummarus Tower.

Nuttige info:

Opening times

- no individual visits, only group visits accompanied by a Lier guide

- group bookings via Visit Lier [2]

Kardinaal Mercierplein

Related content:

St Gummarus Church

Carillon

Bell monument

Celebration Clock

Source URL: <https://www.visitlier.be/en/see/points-interest/st-gummarus-tower>

Links:

[1] <https://www.visitlier.be/en/see/heritage/carillon>

[2] <https://www.visitlier.be/en/groups/tailored-guided-tours/climbing-st-gummarus-tower>